Hi Bruce,

Please see the two attached Notice of Intent forms. You don't have to use either of these particular forms to submit your updated Notice, but they are organized by the rules we are charged to implement, and it should make things easier for everyone. I believe that the tables of contents, page numbers, etc. will update automatically.

- The form ending in "_TOC_INST.doc" has the Division's instructions at the beginning of the document, and which are for reference only (don't submit the instructions back to us).

- The form ending in just "_TOC.doc" has instructions integrated throughout the form as boxes that can be deleted once you're ready to submit the completed Notice. Feel free to use whichever form is easier, and let me know if there are problems/suggestions with the forms.

Make sure that your re-written Notice is consistent with your old Notice, where needed, but that it is also up-to-date based on current and planned conditions. Here's a link to what I consider to be your current Notice so you can include the pertinent parts in the re-write. (The username and password to access this and your other files are both "ogmguest".) <https://fs.ogm.utah.gov/FILES/MINERALS/PERMITS/041/M0410008/2008/INCOMING/0003.pdf>

You are all free to call me about any of this if anyone have questions, especially about what is required for the Notice. I am happy to sit down to discuss as well at some point. Not everything discussed in the Notice applies to your operation, but we will need more information than your past Notice provided.

We'll review your first draft to be received by the Division by July 31st, and will then respond with comments and a request to re-submit pages.

Hi Bruce,

The Division's letter regarding the need for USG to increase the surety, and to amend the Notice of Intent to Commence Large Mining Operations by July 31, 2015 was signed and is probably in the mail. See the attached PDF of the unsigned version.

Note that the amount of required bond amount is the December 2014 amount, not the 2012 amount that I cited on the phone. The amounts are fairly similar. Hopefully that's not an issue.

In the letter, we refer to our Notice of Intent form. I'm sending some forms in Word format for you to fill out in a separate email.

Please call me about any of this if you have questions.

Hopefully all's well.

Peter
